“Management Accounting for Service Innovation, Sustainability and Health Care”

Prof. Lino Cinquini (l.cinquini@sssup.it)

Dr. Andrea Tenucci (a.tenucci@sssup.it)

Aims of the course

The course aims at providing insights on Management Accounting research in the areas of Service innovation, Sustainability Accounting and Health Care. Different methodological approaches will be analysed and their use illustrated to explore the potential of the research in Management Accounting in these areas. Seminars on the topics held by international researchers will provide further substantial insights.

Examination

According with the general rules of the PhD course, the evaluation will be based on these items: course attendance, active commitment to lessons, quality of the possible intermediate presentation assigned, and final exam.

The final exam will consist in individual discussion on the topic "How could management accounting issues be relevant for my dissertation?" as addressed in the scheduling timetable.
